Apartment Complex In Mill

To Build 144 Units

City To Recoup On Water Revenue

BY WAYNE BOARD

Tentative approval was given by the city commission Monday night to lay approximately $50,000 worth of water and sewer line at city expense to a proposed 144-unit apartment complex north of the city.

The complex will cost in the neighborhood of $2 million. Proponents say the money spent on the line will be recovered by the city within 47 months, less the cost of delivery.

Jim Crockett, representing the W. P. Francis Construction Company of Tulsa, Okla., asked the city to bear the expense of laying the water and sewer lines and to guarantee that the city would not annex the area for at least 10 years.

The construction area would be located just north of Taylor and Son Lumber Company, with one apartment unit fronting the Canyon Expressway and another facing north toward Buffalo Bowl. Tentative name for the apartments would be "Yorkshire House". While the four city commissioners tentatively agreed to the water and sewer line proposal and indicated they would discuss the annexation in more detail, Mayor Paul Lindsey refused to approve either.

"The city has no money to lay lines out there," declared the Mayor. "It's too far from our policies to consider." "Even if it were legal, I would still be against it."

"We have to get off dead center," declared Commissioner George Ritter. "Cities are helping commercial projects which help the cities."

Mayor Lindsey said he did not favor a curtailment of annexation because, "we can't bind the next commission."

"I think maybe some of our policies need examining," stated Mayor pro-tem H. R. Fulton, Jr. "It looks like the trend is for cities to help industry."

Crockett explained that although the complex would pay no city taxes, it would pay at least $12,000 yearly in water and sewer charges, plus county and school taxes.

"Your expenditures," Crockett said, "would be returned in four to five years."

OKLAHOMA DEVELOPER Jim Crockett, right, discusses plans for a proposed 144-unit apartment complex north of the city with A. B. Hunsley. City Commissioners are to decide next week if a curtailment of future annexation plans near the proposed site is possible. The complex is to cost about two million dollars.

Joe Kerbel Condition Said Good

Coach Joe Kerbel's physician Wednesday described the West Texas State University Buffalo mentor's condition as good.

He said no decision has been reached as to when Kerbel will be dismissed from Neblett Hospital where he has been hospitalized since he suffered a mild heart attack a week ago Sunday.

For Canyon youngsters interested in football, another season of Kids Incorporated grid play will soon begin.

A Kids Inc. meeting will be held at Conner Park Saturday, August 19, at 10 a.m., for all boys of ages 10 through 12 who are interested in playing, according to Jon Low, coach. The meeting is important to all those interested in playing on the Canyon team, which will compete against Kids Inc. opponents from Amarillo in the coming season, Low said.

The first practice will be held Wednesday, August 23 at 4 p.m. at Conner Park.

Ages and required weights for players are 10 years (at least 100 pounds but not over 120), 11 years (not over 115), and 12 years (not over 120).

Equalization Board Meet Set Aug. 18

Reinstate Smith Service Officer

Randall County commissioners Monday voted to reinstate Rhea Smith as veterans service officer for the north part of Randall County.

Smith, who lives in Amarillo, was fired in January and Roy Price of Canyon was hired as county service officer.

Price will continue on the payroll as county service officer for the south part of the county. Smith was reinstated at his former salary of $181.25 a month. Price was hired at $180 a month.

"This is meant as no reflection on Mr. Price," said Commissioner Bill Butler, who made the motion to rehire Smith.

He said he made the motion due to an increased work load of the veterans service officer in the city of Amarillo and adjacent area.

"This will not affect the duties of Mr. Price in the south-

New Improvements At Palo Duro Park

A major improvements program to cost more than $542,988 has begun at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The paving of three miles of new road, construction of two new parking areas, new buildings and new water system are in progress, according to Jerry Mullican, parks superintendent.

The new road work will begin at the second water crossing and go to the turnaround, commonly known as "Cow Camp", he said. The new road does not cross the creek as does the existing road.

Money for the paving was appropriated by the Texas Highway Department, which is doing the road construction and also work on a two-lane entranceway to the park.

The existing road entranceway will be used as an exit

Hereford Tour Next Week

Panhandle Hereford Breeders will tour two Canyon ranches Tuesday as the wind-up of a two day tour sponsored by the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association.

Walter Graham's Happy Hereford Ranch and Warren's Hereford Ranch will entertain some 750 Hereford breeders Tuesday afternoon.

Cattlemen from all over the world visit the Graham spread which is located some 20 miles southwest of Canyon.

It has one of the top bull batteries in the entire world. The Graham herd is made up of about 500 registered and 500 commercial cows.

The ranch sells about 450 bulls and about 300 females annually. The ranch was established in 1930.

Leaving the Graham ranch, the tour will come to a close after the breeders visit the Warren Hereford Ranch east of Canyon on Palo Duro Highway. The ranch is operated by Meredith Warren. It runs about 400 head of commercial

Planning Meet Slated Aug. 22

Members of Canyon's Planning and Zoning commissions will hold a joint session Aug. 22 with Marvin Springer of Dallas to discuss a new set of subdivision regulations and a pending planning grant for the city.

Springer, urban planning consultant, met here last week with members of the Planning Commission to briefly discuss the progress of the grant through Federal channels.

"Technically", Springer said, "we can't do anything until the Department of Housing and Urban Development approves the grant, but we're going ahead with the land use survey."

Springer said his Dallas crew had completed the land use survey for Canyon "lot by lot" to determine how the land was previously used and how it is being used at the present time.

"I wouldn't venture when the grant will be approved," Springer added.

Through a misunderstanding, Springer thought he was to have met with members of the Zoning Commission last week. "I don't want to go into all the details of the zoning situation at this time," Springer said, "but we can discuss it all at once with the Zoning Commission later this month."

The planning grant, submitted

FROM THE CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

Mitchell Jones, former dean of men at West Texas State, notes that until recent years the mark of superiority among men has been guaged in brute strength.

From the time frightened man turned at bay to strike a saber toothed tiger with a rock and thereby invented weaponry, man's inventions have been mostly extensions of strength.

Women were considered inferior because in most cases men were stronger.

At last man turned his attention to the extension of the brain. The adding machine was a crude extension of man's ability to think. The computer is more sophisticated and someday machines may well vie with man himself in this field.

All this has cleared up an ancient fallacy. Woman is actually man's equal. Woman is man's equal in intelligence and the need for brute strength has pretty well been negated.

Hard as it might be on man's ego he just has to face the facts. Woman is his equal.

Canyon people and folks with Canyon ties have done well in the world.

This week Canyon had a visitor who has made a name for himself in Washington, DC. Dr. M. L. Upchurch, who grew up in Canyon, is one of the top men in the US Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Don Savage, son of Mrs. J. A. Hill, is head of the largest department of paleontology in the world at the University of California at Berkley.

Harvey Cash, vice president of Texas Company, moved to Canyon with his parents when he was in the fourth grade. He was graduated from Canyon High School and attended West Texas State one year before going to A&M.

Dr. Mitchell Jones of Kansas City is one of the country's leading psychiatrists.

He delved into the minds of the two killers in the notorious Clutter murder case in Kansas after the pair was caught. Truman Capote devotes considerable space in his book, "In Cold Blood," to the work of the young psychiatrist.

Joe Francis "Joe Boy" Hill, son of Dr. J. A. Hill, supervised the design and testing of the umbelical chord for the first walk in space by an American astronaut.

I agree with the
President that something should be done to eradicate rats that prey upon underprivileged children in this country.

I saw firsthand some of the work of this carniverous rodent while I was publisher of the newspaper at Olton. Latin-American families chose building sites near the city dump because the land was cheap.

They put up tar paper shacks and lived there. Sometines their children were victims of rat bites. I saw one little fellow whose finger had been gnawed to the bone.

Experts seem to agree that the one way to control rats is to deny them food. Putting out poison bait does little good. As long as there is other food around, the rat will shun this bait.

In big cities, the principal cause for rat infestation is filth. Uncollected garbage and untidy housekeeping is the delight of the rat.

I don't really know what the federal government can do to remedy the rat problem. Local government can do a better job on garbage collection and maybe slum dwellers can be encouraged to keep their homes cleaner. These are about the only solutions.

Maybe some answers are locked away somewhere waiting to be discovered. Surely a people that can control the screwworm fly can keep rats from attacking their children.

George Schuyler, a Negro who writes a column for the North American Newspaper Alliance has this to say about recent riots. Here in part are some of his comments:

".....Millions of whites have fallen for the line that they are today responsible for the evils of slavery and the 'century of neglect' that followed it.....the successful Negro has been downgraded as a self-seeking opportunist : the jobless, embittered, violence-prone Negro has been idealized as the true voice of his people.

Schuyler says the Negro upper class has been frightened into silence by the "local and national Pied Pipers who are leading gangs of dropouts, juvenile deliquents and the criminally inclined astray.

"...So this has given the agitator-activists full sway and no one has been tearing apart their vicious lies.....

"These people...make it appear that the American Negro's future is hopeless, whereas it is as hopeful as that of the whites.....

"The agitators gather crowds by blaming the white man for all the Negroes' ills, while the responsible Negro leadership either defends this falsehood, cravenly remains silent, or whimpers 'We didn't really mean it' after the cities have burned to ashes.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

(Editor's Note: This article is one of a series on Canyon Schools. It is written by a member of the faculty.)

The need for increased attention to the physical fitness of youth is well established. Society expects boys and girls to become men and women with stamina, endurance, initiative, and emotional stability sufficient to withstand the pressure of everyday living. Therefore, it is of great importance that schools throughout America take immediate steps to ensure that every child be given the opportunity to become physically fit. This demands a cooperative effort on the part of school boards, school executives, teachers, parents, and students. To accomplish a goal of this magnitude requires that each community develop and carry out a carefully planned and supervised course of instruction in physical education as a part of the public school educational program.

In order for physical education to more adequately fulfill its responsibility toward the accomplishment of the total education program there must be a carefully planned and supervised program of instruction. The physical education program in the Canyon Elementary Schools is planned to develop the local youth to uphold the challenge of national and statewide emphasis on youth physical fitness. The earlier a youngster begins to acquire a foundation on which to build, the sooner he starts to develop strength, agility, power, motor ability, and endurance so as to assure physical fitness at all times.

Canyon is one of few elementary schools in a large area that has a physical education program, taught by physical education specialists, in grades one through six. Each child in elementary school in Canyon receives at least twenty-five minutes of physical education instruction each day.

Activities included in the program of instruction are graded and progressive according to the needs of children based on age, interest, state of development and other factors. The total growth of a child involves various forms of large-muscle activity wisely chosen and directed and requires the application of sound teaching principles on each grade level. Student leadership capacities, powers of self-expression, and increasing self-confidence are carefully nurtured. The development of powers of observation, analysis, judgement and decision through the medium of physical activities are stressed. Emphasis is put on knowledge of rules, skill, techniques and strategies in a wide range of physical activities.

Physical education in the elementary school is one of the areas presenting abundant experiences which can aid children in gaining skills, attitudes, appreciations and understanding of permanent value. The program not only guides normal physical development but furnishes ideal situations in which children may experience such values as success, worthy group membership and creativity, and develop skills and knowledges which can aid in assuring social status both in school years and in later life leisure-time recreation. The end results of the program are not to be measured in terms of all around individual growth and development.

The strength of our nation tomorrow depends in a large measure on the physical fitness of our youth today. The Canyon Elementary Schools hope to assist the youth of this community in becoming physically prepared to meet this challenge with confidence.

Denver Paper Acclaims Success Of WT'S Opportunity Plan

(Following is a story of Buff Morris and the Opportunity Plan written by Bernard Kelly and published in The Empire, a Sunday supplement to The Denver Post.)

Just five years ago Mrs. Frances McMahon, 27, washed dishes part time in an Aspermont, Tex. (pop. 1,286) cafe, trying to support herself and the five children of her broken marriage. She was on relief, had only a high school education, and no training for a better job. Many nights she lay awake and wept.

Today Mrs. McMahon is a school-teacher at Channing, Tex., 49 miles northwest of Amarillo. She earns $5,000 a year. Her children have a good home and the future looks bright because of Opportunity Plan, Inc.

Mrs. McMahon and approximately 630 others have been graduated from West Texas State University, Canyon, Tex., through Opportunity Plan. Many had almost as little chance of getting a college education as Frances McMahon. For their degrees, their jobs and their secure future they can thank Milton (Buff) Morris. The Opportunity Plan is his idea. Through it he has proved his contention that if you want an education earnestly enough to work hard for it, you can have it.

The Opportunity Plan is simple: A high school graduate who can't afford a college education can-if he can convince Morris he is in dead earnest-borrow enough money on his own signature to pay his way through West Texas State.

It's no gift. It's a loan, and he must pay it back. But he pays no interest, and during the time he's studying for his degree he's free of financial worry.

Morris' Opportunity Plan made such an impression in Texas during the last seven years that Gov. John Connally in 1965 signed into law a plan to make similar loans, financed by the sale of state bonds, available to students in all other Texas colleges and universities.

But those who know Morris and the Opportunity Plan as it works in West Texas State University can't believe it'll be the same-because there's only one Morris.

West Texas State, in the Texas Panhandle, has an enrollment of about 5,200 and a teaching staff of 220. Established in 1910, its green and sun-bathed campus is the main feature of Canyon, 18 miles south of Amarillo. Its mascot is the buffalo, its football team is known as the Buffaloes, and because of this, Morris got his nickname-Buff.

Buff Morris, 58, a 6-foot-3 1/2, 220 pounder, talks forcefully with a broad West Texas twang, using vigorous, homely idioms. Even when he's sitting still he seems about to spring across the desk. Morris is the Opportunity Plan to most students.

We watched him in action and met some of his students one day recently. It was early, but the office crew was already at work.

"We don't work any 8 to 4 here," he said. "These kids work as long as they have to, to finish their work."

He turned to Janora Shelton of Odell, Tex., an Opportunity Plan student, who was operating an adding machine.

"Any messages for me, Janora?"

"Frances McMahon phoned she'll be here at 9 with the family. Mildred Moore is down the hall. She'll be right back."

Morris nodded and we went into his office and sat down.

"Mildred Moore," he said. "She has four children-11, 9, 6 and 5, all boys. She's from Levelland, Tex. Some people told me about Mildred. They said she had ambition, but that other schools refused to accept her because her academic talent wasn't good."

Whap!

Buff Morris slapped his hand on the desk top, and his jaw clamped shut.

"Some of the deans of these schools probably never had to care for four kids. They just turned her application down and drove away to their air conditioned homes!

"There's two things entrance tests don't determine-how bad you want an education, and how hard you'll work to get it."

He spoke to Janora over the partition. It would have to be a stout partition to hold back Buff Morris' voice.

"Janora, please have Mildred Moore come in."

The door opened and Mildred Moore entered.

Mildred Moore is a Negro. This itself is strange enough in west Texas. It is stranger yet in Canyon, where there once was an unwritten law that Negroes must leave town before sunset.

Mildred Moore sat down, calm and composed.

Buff Morris smiled at her. "Mildred, I told you this world was tough, didn't I?"

MILTON "BUFF" MORRIS

"Yes," she said softly.

"But if you did what I said, I'd sponsor you through school, didn't I?"

"Yes."

Morris told how his plan had worked for Mildred. He paid Mildred's parents to care for her four children, and obtained a job for her in the college library. He didn't want her worrying about her unpaid past bills, so he paid them.

"Then I told her I'd find her a good home," Morris said, "even though Canyon hadn't integrated And under the Opportunity Plan I did, where she could take care of a lady and earn her board and room.

"Mildred is graduating soon, and she has a job teaching in California. I told Mildred if she went on the Opportunity Plan she'd be given the same opportunity as anyone else."

Mildred Moore did her practice teaching in Canyon High School, the first Negro to teach there. When her teaching stint was over the students held a party for her.

"Mildred has made a good record here," Morris said. "Believe me, I couldn't do anything about it if a person doesn't have it. You could take a million dollars and you couldn't do anything with Mildred if she didn't have it."

Since then Morris has sponsored seven Negroes, and they're "making it fine."

Shortly afterward we met Frances McMahon, an attractive, soft-spoken young woman with a firm, square angle to her jaw.

One of Frances' brothers had come to see Morris.

"My sister Frances lives in Aspermont," He said, "She always wanted to go to college. But with five children she hasn't got a chance."

"We'll see about that," Buff Morris said.

Instead of waiting for Frances McMahon to come to him, he drove 200 miles to Aspermont to see her.

"I spent a couple of hours checking up on her, then I went to meet her," Morris says. "I had to find out whether she could do college work, so we agreed to a tryout."

Frances' parents took care of her children that summer and she came to Canyon, enrolled for two summer courses, and worked at a drive-in.

"I watched her," Morris says "I put her to a lot of tests she didn't know about, because you can't finance every lady that comes along that's had a divorce."

Morris found that Frances met his standards, and she received C grades in the two courses. That satisfied him.

"I told her to go get the kids and bring them to school," he says.

Together they worked out a budget, and Morris found the family a place to live at a reasonable rent. College work wasn't easy, but as time went on, Frances' grades improved.

During the first term Frances came to Morris.

"Can I buy a rocking chair?" she asked.

"Why?"

"My little boy, Brad is sick, and I have to rock him every night. I get so tired I'm afraid I can't make it unless I have a rocking chair," Frances said.

The rocking chair was bought, and Brad recovered.

Morris discovered a well-to-do Canyon woman who wore the same size dresses as Frances. The Canyon woman's slightly worn clothing soon made Frances one of the best dressed women on the campus.

Eventually Frances was graduated and began to teach.

"There has never been a person graduated from West Texas that I have more admiration for" Morris says. "She's done far more for the program than the program did for her. She's made lots of speeches and many public appearances for us."

When Frances McMahon was graduated she owed the plan $5,000 and the credit union $450. The combined debt has been reduced to $3,618, and Morris says he certainly isn't worried about the balance.

Most Opportunity Plan students-male and female-are single and of the age to be entering college. Many apply directly to Morris. Between raising funds and appraising students Morris puts in a lot of time on the road.

Morris was born June 29, 1909, at Gray, Okla., attended schools at Blue Mound and Perryton, Tex., and was graduated in 1934 from West Texas State with a bachelor of science degree. Eventually he also obtained a bachelor of science degree at Texas A. & I. (Arts & Industries), and a masters degree at Texas Tech. In 1936 he married Cathryn Peterson at San Antonio. They have a daughter, Cathryn Ann, 24, now teaching at San Angelo, Tex.

After various teaching jobs Morris came back to West Texas as teacher, and later principal of the college demonstration school. He then was appointed director of men's dormitories. In 1950 he became executive secretary of the Ex-Students Assn.

Like anyone else who was in school during the depression, Morris was impressed by the difficulty of financing an education. More than once he saw a boy leave college when $30 might have kept him in school.

West Texas had loan funds, but when Morris tried to help students borrow, red tape often interfered.

"I got to letting them have money myself," Morris says. "I'd let them sign IOUs. And all that time the school had money in its own loan fund!"

Finally he asked the school to lend him $500 to help finance students. They agreed but attached strings, so Morris refused the loan.

"I'll go raise me my own money," he told them.

The first man to give was A. E. (Gene) Quest, a Lubbock businessman and West Texas graduate. Quest gave him $500, and the A. E. (Gene) Quest Loan Fund was established. Soon others began making contributions. The alumni organization also set up a fund. A separate fund, checkbook and accounting system was set up for each.

In 1958 the idea had grown to where Morris decided the plan should be incorporated, with a board of directors to take the responsibility.

Right about then Jane Cheyne, a student who was working her way through school, stopped in to see Morris. She had a job in the school cafeteria, but she had to borrow money from Morris several times.

"Could you lend me $50 to $60 each semester?" she asked. "If I knew I could count on it, I could get along fine."

"Okay, Jane," Morris said. "You'll have it."

"Oh, boy!" Jane Cheyne said exultantly. "What an opportunity!"

And thus she gave the name to the soon-to-be-incorporated group: the Opportunity Plan, Inc.

(Jane Cheyne did more than that. She became so enthusiastic and such an inspired speaker that she roved the Texas Panhandle with Morris and other students explaining the plan, soliciting funds and inspiring students to apply. She is now married and teaching at Fort Worth.)

The incorporation was effected in 1959 and Morris set out to seek board members.

"A lot of people said it wouldn't work," Morris says. "They said we couldn't raise money to lend. They said the students wouldn't pay it back. But finally some gave money. One was C. V. Woolley of Amarillo. I still had to find a man to be president. One day Woolley called me and said 'Get your trap set. I'm bringing your man to you.' "

The man he brought was Harvey Allen of Amarillo, a businessman with substantial oil, cattle, farm and feed interests.

Morris didn't talk to Allen. Instead he steered him into the cafeteria. There he pulled kids out of the line as they filled their trays and brought them together into a small room.

"I didn't sell him; the kids sold him" Morris says. "One girl, Sally McShan, waggled her finger at him and lectured him. After lunch he came into my office and said he'd be our president. He's still with us, and still full of enthusiasm."

In 1963 the university asked Morris to establish a department of student financial aids, and to be its director. Now all financial aid plans are under his jurisdiction, and there are five major ones: the university's own employment and loan program, four different U.S. government porgrams, the United Student Aid Fund (a private corporation), the Opportunity Plan, and the state's Texas Opportunity Plan.

Morris disapproves of the "free rides" of student financial aids that do not have to be repaid or are repaid only in part. For a time he waged a one-man campaign to keep them off campus. He thinks Uncle Sam is too free with money: "You don't help a student or anyone else by giving them something."

As director of student financial aid, Morris will help a student apply for grants and scholarships. But he feels sponsorship under the Opportunity Plan does more for the student. It makes him develop habits of thrift, Morris says, teaches him to manage money and live within a budget, and gives him a credit rating.

A typical case might begin like this.

A high school girl wants to go to college, but she doesn't have the money, nor do her parents.

She writes Morris. First Morris wants to learn more about her.

"I want to know things," Morris says. "Is she honest? Is she dependable? Does she love learning? Is she honorable?"

The girl must submit five references. Then she writes a letter to Morris. She tells why she wants to go to college and explains the provisions of the Opportunity Plan, so Morris can be sure she understands it is not charity.

The girl tells him how much money she has and how much her parents can send.

"I've had a father tell me: 'I's hurting; I can't send anything.' " Morris says.

"I tell him 'Look me in the face, now; she's your daughter. You going to smoke two packages of cigarettes a day and leave her out? Or drink three beers a day and leave her out?' And finally he'll say, 'I'll help $75 a month.' "

Students on the Opportunity Plan must work. Morris often helps them find jobs. In this case he finds one that will pay the girl student $40 a month. With a total of $115 a month guaranteed, she must estimate how much more she will need for tuition and books and to live comfortably.

Morris doesn't want her to starve or go without necessities. He wants a budget large enough that money is not a worry which will interfere with studies. Boys must have a few dollars for dates. Girls must have cosmetics and coffee money.

The student estimates how much she'll need. Say, in this case, it is $150 a month. With $115 from home and job, she needs an additional $35 a month from the Opportunity Plan. Often it is much more.

All the money that comes in, including the $75 from home and the $40 from the job, is turned over to the Opportunity Plan office. In turn, the girl, when she needs money, goes to Mrs. Bonita Newby in Morris' office, and Mrs. Newby writes her a check for what she needs. But she'd better be able to account for everything on short notice.

For this purpose every Opportunity Plan student keeps "The Book" in which he enters every expenditure, so he knows exactly where he stands with his budget.

For example, Pauline Lampkin of Darrouzett, Tex., who has two children, appeared for an interview clutching her Book.

"Pauline, how much money have you spent in the three years you've been here?" Morris demanded without warning.

Pauline opened her Book.

"Since I've been here I've spent $4,304.98," she said.

"How much have you earned?"

"I've earned $772.70."

"How much have you spent on groceries this summer?"

"Rent, groceries, phone and gas came to $121.95."

"How much have you spent this semester on clothes for your family?"

"I haven't spent anything on clothes so far."

"How much is your budget?"

"$700."

"How much do you have left?"

"$356."

"There you are," Morris said. "This is it. The Book must be up to date and it must balance. Pauline works at the library. When she's paid, she turns her check over to the Opportinity Plan. Pauline, if you find a quarter, what do you do with it?"

"Turn it in."

"Right!" Morris said, slapping the desk three times, whap, whap, whap. "If you want to get off the Opportunity Plan real quick, just don't turn your money in. If we're going to lie and cheat, why get together?"

Everything the student borrows must be repaid. Many boys pay what they owe from earnings during the summer, and start anew with the plan in the fall. With girls it isn't so easy. But they pay off.

"I tell the students: come and spend as little as you can; be modest in your way of life and owe me as little as you can; earn as much as you can; graduate as rapidly as you can (most Opportunity Plan students make it in three years), and pay me back as you can."

His door is never closed to students with problems.

Like love and marriage. Many fathers wish they had as much control, because Opportunity Plan students must get his consent to marry.

"Few girls have married in school," Morris says. "If marriage would leave them better off, why good. But just because the boy friend drives Dad's car and it has twin pipes, that doesn't mean his note is good.

"If she's determined, I say 'bring him in and we'll talk it out.' I put it to him straight. I may say, 'Boy, I don't want your note. It isn't any good. I have this girl's note, and her agreement not to marry without my consent, and I'm not happy at all.' I tell him right in front of her."

They may marry anyhow. Six years ago one of Morris' girl students did marry a boy student. She didn't tell him she owed the Opportunity Plan $4,000, and he didn't tell her he had no prospect whatever of a job. Soon after the marriage the girl became pregnant.

But the marriage showed the wisdom of Morris' choice of students. The girl paid up. She was six years doing it, and often her contribution was as little as $2. But recently she brought in the final payment, and she brought her three children with her when she paid it.

"We pay hospital bills, find jobs, find housing, and buy things," Morris says. "When the students need something I get a bargain for them. I've got a man in the appliance business I buy from. And cars, I bet I've bought 14 this semester. I always have a place I can buy something -even dental work.

"I go to a dentist and say, doc, look, you might have these kids from now on. Give 'em a little discount. They won't all do it; but most of them do."

The Opportunity Plan has a credit union, to help graduates get started, and each student takes out life insurance naming the Opportunity Plan as a partial beneficiary to guarantee repayment of the debt if the student dies. The balance goes to the student's own beneficiary.

Then there's the Perpetual Fund. It's voluntary, giving students a chance to give financial help to future students. Under it a student deposits a sum of money each year, and the money is invested. At the end of 10 years, principal and interest go into the capital fund to help someone else go through college.

Morris estimates he has lent money to 1,600 students and about 630 have been graduated. Many of the 1,600 were students to whom he lent small sums in the days before the establishment of the Opportunity Plan. Since the inception of the plan, most sponsored students have been graduated. At present about 250 are in school under the plan, and 60 of these were new last autumn.

In midsummer, 1966, the capital of Opportunity Fund, Inc., was $358,181.18, and the Perpetual Fund contained $41,115.69. Opportunity Fund had $307,857.86 out in loans to present and past students, and had $10,207.63 cash on hand.

Since he started, Morris has done about $1.3 million in "business" and has about $10,000 in delinquencies. Of this, $3,000 is the debt of one girl who became ill.

"I don't have $1,000 in delinquent accounts where the kids have refused to pay," Morris says.

I asked Buff Morris the obvious question: "What's in this for you?"

"Well, a lot of satisfaction," he said. "It's hard work, but there's a satisfaction in doing something that needs to be done, and being stubborn enough to prove you can do it."

Morris' salary is $11,000 a year. He has farm and ranch interests of his own which, he says, would pay him more than that if he devoted his time to them.

"But I don't plan any change," he says. "They couldn't run me off."

The Opportunity Plan carries $50,000 life insurance on Morris, half going to the plan and half to his wife and daughter. With its own $25,000 the plan could pay off any money borrowed by Morris and find-or try to find-his successor.

Morris recently signed a government contract to study student financial aid in the area. He will have a staff of three, and during the next 12 months will talk t- every junior high and senior high student in 70 Texas counties.

"I'm going to tell these students to keep their noses clean and be good citizens: to talk it over with their parents: to plan early and make up their minds. By using the same methods I've used with the Opportunity Plan, I may be able to cut down on the percentage of dropouts in those 70 counties."

Morris and his wife live in a comfortable house near the campus. He bounds out of bed at 5 a.m. in summer, at 6 or 6:30 in winter; has corn flakes or peaches, and is off for the office. He takes an hour, never more, for lunch.

He's home for dinner about 6:30, and it's usually eaten in front of the TV. His favorite programs: Westerns, Perry Mason and To Tell The Truth.

Morris reads carefully and fast and is interested in current events, American history, biography and politics. He enjoys baseball and likes to play bridge. He plays well, and gloats when he wins.

Usually Morris is in bed by 10 p.m. He's a sound sleeper.

It's well he is, as every day seems to bring him a new challenge. Someone usually is waiting in the reception room when he arrives in the office. The more difficult the case, the better he seems to enjoy tackling it.

It might be, as it was the day we visited him, a personal friend from a town 100 miles away, accompanied by a high school graduate of promise but without money.

Or it might be a young couple with a six-week-old infant.

Or it might be another Frances McMahon or Jane Cheyne or Sally McShan.

In any event, he's always alert for Janora's voice:

"There's someone to see you, Mr. Morris."

Canyon All-Stars Defeated At Pecos

Canyon Little League All-Star's chances for the state baseball crown were shattered last week when they fell to defeat 4-0 at the hands of Abilene Eastern at Pecos.

The team's heaviest hitter, Bill Moore, sprained an ankle in a previous practice session and was unable to play. He attempted to get into the game during the first inning, but was unable to run.

Moore, who helped advance the Canyon squad to the sectional title play, held Plainview nine to three hits and struck out ten of the batters who faced him.

Pitcher Gary Gerber gave up three hits, walked one and struck out ten of the batters who faced him.

The Abilene squad left three on base, while the Canyon group left five. Canyon's all-stars had two hits to Abilene's three. The all-stars committed three errors and the other team none.

Participants in the game from Canyon included Gerber, Ricky McCarter, Wayne Pitt, Gary Bednorz, Jack McClain, Roger Burton, Dennis Collier, Ed Lair, Gary Byars, Kenneth Kiker, Scott Keeling, Moore, Sammy Kerbel, Ronnie Cates and Dwight Brandt. Coaches were Duane Guy and Roland Hicks.

Funeral Rites Held For Bewley

Funeral services for Jack H. Bewley were conducted Wednesday at LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment was at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home. Serving as pallbearers were Jack Inman, Floyd Hamblin, O. A. McBroom, Fay Hand, Bill Hand and R. J. McAdams.

Mr. Bewley, 52, was dead-on-arrival at University Hospital in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Saturday, August 5. His death was attributed to an apparent heart attack.

He was born October 28, 1914 at McKinney and was a construction worker. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon and was a veteran of World War II, where he served in the European theatre with the local National Guard.

A former resident of Canyon Mr. Bewley is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mamie Bewley of Canyon; two brothers, Bill N. Bewley of San Bruno, California and Jesse W. Bewley of Canyon; and three children, Jackie Kay, Fay Nell and Bill Bob Bewley, all of Pottet, Oklahoma. He was preceded in death by a brother, Maurice L. Bewley, in 1964.

McClure Named To Presidency

C. Boone McClure of Canyon was named president of the American Barbed Wire Collectors Association at a meeting of the group last week in Waco.

McClure, director for the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, was third vice president of the collectors group last year. The museum here serves as national headquarters for the organization.

More than 100 members of the association conducted their annual gathering at the museum here last year.

The group has more than 200 members from throughout the United States.

'TEXAS' Playwright Views Production

Pulitzer prize winning author Paul Green was in Canyon last week end to see his production "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Green and his wife drove to Canyon from LaGrange, Tex. where he conferred with members of the board of directors of Frish Auf Village, a reconstruction of an early-days German town.

Green may produce an outdoor drama for the village. He now serves as project advisor.

The author told "TEXAS" cast members of the need in this country which they are fulfilling and of the great gift the young people of the crew are able to give to society.

He said one of the problems faced by many young people is that they are not needed or wanted in their localities.

Green said he planned a few minor improvemnets for the production.

Following his address to the "TEXAS" cast, Green met with members of the show's sponsoring Panhandle Hertiage Foundation at the home of Mrs. Margaret Harper, secretary, to discuss production changes.

On his return to his home in Chapel Hills, North Carolina, Green was to stop at Inspiration Point, Eureka Springs, Arkansas, where "TEXAS" musical arranger Isaac Van Grove is head of a drama and opera workshop.

Green has recently finished a novel, "Tomorrow Is My Dancing Day", which is the story of a small Negro boy in the south.

He is also working on a folk history of the Capefear Valley entitled "Words And Ways". Green was reared in the Capefear Valley area.

The next drama Green plans to finish will be the story of the Moravian people near Schoenbrunn Village in Ohio.

The Moravian people developed the patterns of religious music which form the foundation of our present-day Protestant services.

The Church was founded on Bohemia in 1415 and the Moravians published the first Protestant hymnbook in 1501.

The Moravians in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania present a Bach festival each year in Ohio.

Improvements . . .

when the construction is completed, Mullican added.

A large concessions building, to house a trading post, souvenier shop and lunchroom facility, will be located between the Pioneer Amphitheatre and the Sad Monkey Railroad on the east side of the highway. One-half mile south of the new concessions site is the ski lift area.

Also included in the list of improvements for the park will be a remodeling of the headquarters building at the entranceway.

Interior of the headquarters building will be refinished and part of the structure will be covered with rock veneer to match existing facilities. Also near the headquarters building will be a new ticket office and additional space for late-arrival camping units.

The new water system will tap the Lake Meredith aqueduct later this month.

Mullican said a six-inch water line will be laid from the aqueduct through eight miles in the park. Contract for the work was given to Brodie Construction Company of Amarillo.

The water system will include a treatment and filtration plant with 50,000 gallon storage.

A high mineral content, Mullican explained, will mean that the existing water wells can no longer be used.

An old sandstone quarry in Sunday Canyon, used last in the 1930's, was recently reopened to provide materials for the improvements. More than 3,000 yards of the sandstone will be quarried, Mullican stated.

USDA Economist Says Future In Exporting

American agriculture's future lies in exports. This is how the farm picture is summed up by Dr. M. L. Upchurch, administrator for Economic Research Service for the US Department of Agriculture.

Upchurch was here for a convention of Texas county agents held Monday and Tuesday in Amarillo.

While in the area, he visited his sister, Mrs. James Cole of Canyon. He grew up in Canyon where his father, W. H. Upchurch, for many years was Randall County agent.

"I think American agriculture is in pretty good shape," said Upchurch. "I think the farmer can be pretty optomistic."

He then stressed the importance of world trade.

"Increasing importance of world markets for farm products is one of the outstanding features of agriculture today," Dr. Upchurch declared. "Agricultural exports this past year was just under $7 billion which is a big chunk of our total market. This means that if the American farmers are going to be able to produce at the present levels we are going to have to keep these markets and expand them if we can."

"We must be competitive," he went on. "We are not going to see any upward trend of prices for our grain in foreign markets soon. Grain is our big export, of course. We are going to have to pay increasing attention to developing foreign markets and meeting our competition." He said three fifths of American wheat production and one fifth of feed grain production is sold overseas.

Dr. Upchurch said Canada is this country's foremost competitor in the world wheat market. "They sell a lot of wheat to Red China," he declared. America does not trade with Red China.

Australia, Argentina, South Africa and France also are competitors in the wheat market. He said France is a relatively large wheat producer although it does not rival Canada as our competitor in that market.

America and Australia vie for a big wheat market in Japan, he declared.

Dr. Upchurch denies that the farmer is to blame for rising cost of living.

"The price the housewife pays for groceries is not very closely related to the price the farmer receives for his product," said the USDA expert. "To illustrate---for a pound loaf of bread the farmer gets 2.7 cents. The remainder of the purchase price goes to the miller, the baker, for transportation, wrapping and retailing cost.

"There's a lot of cost to getting a loaf of bread to the housewife other than just buying the wheat that goes into it.

Dr. Upchurch said this doesn't mean that the miller, the baker and the grocerman are getting rich off a loaf of bread.

"It does mean that there are a lot of processes of production that have to be paid for," he went on.

"If a housewife buys a TV dinner," he said, "She's buying a lot of built-in maid service. This is a part of the reason that the farmer gets only 39 cents for every dollar the housewife spends for food."

Dr. Upchurch said the total wage bill for agriculture has remained relatively static. Farmers are using less labor at higher wage rates, he declared.

"They are substituting capital for labor," he went on. "Technology is playing a bigger role in agricultire. For instance, a mechanical tomato picker costs $25,000 but replaces 75 hand pickers."

Dr. Upchurch declined to guess what effect this would have on the economic well being of the people who normally would perform such tasks by hand.

Dr. Upchurch said Japan is this country's first $1 billion market for farm products. "It's not give away," he went on. "They pay with hard currency. He named other countries including Taiwan, Greece and Spain that are getting on their feet financially and are paying cash for farm products.

The exports prospects of the American farmer is bright if he can only meet competition, he declared.

COUNTY AGENTS from throughout the state visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum here Monday. Pictured are Don Decker, left, Bell County agent; Mrs. John Brazzil, wife of the Randall County agent; and Howard Mitchell, executive director of the Texas agricultural Limestone Association. The group was in the area for a convention in Amarillo. More than 500 of the county agents were here. They also attended a Barbecue in Palo Duro Canyon Monday afternoon.

Reinstate . .

ern Randall County," the motion stated, "But he will be relieved of duties in Amarillo and adjacent area."

Butler said that servicing Veteran's needs in the county is a two-man job.

Commissioners Butler, B. R. Jones and Glenn Dowlen voted for the measure while Commissioner Clarence Beckman, who proposed the hiring of Price to replace Smith, abstained.

The service officer job in Randall County is now costing the county $127.50 a month more than it did when Smith was fired in January. Prior to that time Roland Black, Canyon Chamber of Commerce Manager, had been Smith's assistant at $52.50 a month. Black resigned shortly after Smith was dismissed.

Black's salary and Smith's salary totalled $233.75 while the combined salaries of Smith and Price come to $361.-25.

One commissioner took exception to a raise in salary for 47th District Court reporter W. R. Frazee of Amarillo.

District Judge Gene Jordan set Frazee's salary at $9,600 a year. Randall County's part of the tab comes to $3,479.04, a raise of $398.64 over last year.

"That thing is ridiculous but I guess there's nothing we can do about it," declared Commissioner Glenn Dowlen. Dowlen said Frazee's salary is not in keeping with salaries paid other county employes.

Randall County pays a little more than 36 percent of the court reporter's salary. The remainder is paid by Potter and Armstrong Counties, also a part of the 47th Judicial District.

Russell Megert, county architect, showed commissioners preliminary plans for the proposed two-story North Annex to the Randall County courthouse. The annex is to be constructed just north of the present main courthouse here in Canyon.

Megert said estimated cost of the new structure if $398,000.

Elliott Office Supply of Amarillo with a bid of $180 was low bidder to supply a typewriter for the office of Woody Pond, Randall County juvenile officer.

Jones was authorized to advertise for bids for 1.5 miles of resurfacing on McCormick Road from the Santa Fe tracks east to South Washington.

A new petition has been filed by owners of Fortress Cliff Corporation for a road giving access to a landlocked 269-acre tract on the north rim of Palo Duro Canyon bordering Palo Duro State Park. The tract belongs to the corporation.

An earlier petition asking 1.5 miles of road was rejected by the court as inadequately drawn. The new petition, posted at both ends of the desired road July 31 and filed with the county clerk, requests 4 miles of road.

If constructed the road would begin at the common corners of sections 95 and 96 and run to the north edge of section 30 to the tract owned by Fortress Cliffs.

a C. R. Anthony Store in Perryton for a period of five years. His wife, Marion, will serve as head cashier at the store here.

The Thompsons will live at 903 Ninth Avenue in Canyon. They have one son, Grant, 2-1/2, and are members of the Church of Christ.

Serving as assistant manager at the store here will be Bill Barton, who was formerly with a C. R. Anthony store in Borger for four years.

City . . .

"It's your baby," Mayor Lindsey told the commission. "You figure it out."

The possibility of Canyon's Industrial Foundation purchasing the six and one-half acres required for the apartments and leasing it to Crockett for 10 years was discussed by IF chairman Joe Gidden, but no decision was made. The organization could possibly guarantee Crockett a 10-year tax-exemption should the area be annexed by the city.

Crockett said the apartment structure would be in two units--one containing 72 two-bedroom apartments and the other having 40 one-bedroom apartments and 32 2-bedroom apartments.

The complex, a duplicate of another Francis Construction-built apartment at Norman, Okla. near the Oklahoma University campus, will be designed in Old English architecture and will be one and one-third city blocks long fronting the expressway.

Crockett said the apartments would be completely furnished and would rent for from $140 to $200 per month. Each unit would have central heating and cooling. Each of the two complexes would have a swimming pool.

There will be 25 people employed at the apartment.

Features outside the apartments would include a shuffleboard and badminton court, club houses for private parties, barbecue grills around the pools and parking facilities for 588 automobiles.

Crockett said at least two and possibly three buses would be used to transport students to and from the West Texas State University campus and off-duty policemen would probably be employed as security officers.

The developer said his company planned to use as many local contractors and materials as possible for the project.

Crockett said if he received final approval from city fathers by Tuesday, construction would begin by Sept. 1 and the apartments readied for occupancy by February, 1968.

Representatives of an Amarillo law firm requested Monday that a water line outside Canyon be extended to the southeast corner of property near the northern city limits.

Art Baker, speaking for Miller, Sanders, Baker and Miller of Amarillo, said his firm was considering the development of property now owned by the Joe Currie Drilling Company for a restaurant.

The property is located on Spur 48 and the Canyon Expressway, just north of the WTSU Fine Arts Building.

Baker said the restaurant, to serve primarily hamburger sandwiches, would depend largely on walk-in business from WTSU. About 80 per cent of the business, he estimated, would be of a walk-in variety and would necessitate few parking spaces.

Possibly to be included in the restaurant complex will be a men's clothing store.

In other business, a public hearing on a proposed rate increase for Pioneer Natural Gas Company was scheduled Aug. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

The hearing, to hear Canyon resident's views concerning the proposed increase that would hike gas charges 11.5 per cent, was called after city dads briefly discussed the rate change.

C. I. (Stony) Wall, Pioneer Natural president, had earlier told the commission the increase was necessary to assure a greater return to company stockholders.

The Railroad Commission, he said, allows Pioneer a 6.5 per cent rate of return. The firm's rate of return, he pointed out, was 2.35 per cent in 1966.

If Canyon commissioners do not approve the hike, Pioneer can take the proposal before the railroad commission, Wall declared.

Wall explained that if the railroad commission found in favor of his company, the City of Canyon or any municipality losing in a hearing would pay costs from $25,000 to $40,000.

"If it goes to the commission, it goes to the commission," Wall stated.

Commissioners had earlier discussed the possibility of employing a panel of experts to review this and other utility increases within Pioneer's 55-city West Texas Distribution System.

City dads, however, indicated they wanted to determine public reaction to the increase before making a decision.

Jerry LaGrone, owner of a funeral home and ambulance service here, told city dads his ambulance service was losing several hundrad dollars per month due to rising salaries.

The ambulance service, he said, employed an around-the-clock crew to answer emergency calls.

LaGrone said 82 per cent of his calls were within the city limits. Charges on about 60 per cent of the calls, he continued, are not collected.

Many cities, LaGrone said, subsidized ambulance services.

"It to our mind is a community problem," he said. "I wouldn't consider quitting the ambulance business--we wouldn't consider leaving the town without this type service."

"We would appreciate any consideration you could give us," he concluded.

City dads said they would consider the matter.

Plains Machinery Company of Amarillo was low bidder for a motor grader to be used on city streets here.

The company bid $14,000 on a 1964-model Gallion grader, less a trade-in of $5,350 for existing equipment. The machine has a six-months new warranty.

There were four other bids submitted, three from another Amarillo firm and one from Lubbock.

High Plains Pavers of Plainview was paid $16,433.85 for recently completed paving work here and McMorries & Associates of Amarillo, received $1,292.13 for engineering work.

James Murphy White, Dr. J. Manly Bryan, Bill Sternenberg and Joe Gidden were approved as new members to the City Planning Commission.

City Clerk Johnny Janak received a monthly salary increase from $500 to $700, plus $100 automobile expenses.

Although the employment of auditors for the coming year was discussed, no action was taken. Peat, Marwick and Mitchell of Amarillo prepared the audit for fiscal year now ending.

Among those July expenditures criticized was payment of $71.08 to the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here for damage to a door at the group's post home.

Mayor Lindsey said a Canyon Police Department officer broke the door in at the VFW after the Randall County Sheriffs office received a disturbance call from the post home.

The officer, Mayor Lindsey said, had no authority outside the city limits. To add insult to injury, the woman who made the call, he explained, gave the sheriffs office an incorrect address. Sheriffs officers were needed south, not north of Canyon.

"I just can't go for these rookie cops," declared Commissioner Felix Pierce.

"I can't either," said the Mayor.

The city officer went to the VFW Hall at the direction of a sheriff's department dispatcher who said no deputies were available at the time the emergency call came in.

Also criticized was a city telephone bill totaling $262 for July and the purchase of a $95 clock, picture and other items for the city manager's office.

A proclamation making Canyon a "sister city" with Minakamimachi, Japan was signed by Mayor Lindsey.

The law states that any city under 50,000 population making a grant request must first submit it to a state agency.

"It is proposed," said Springer in the grant request, "that the development of the Canyon Comprehensive Plan be carefully correlated with the Plan being developed for Amarillo and, in all respects, be a unit of the Amarillo Metropolitan Area Plan though no official Metropolitan Planning Agency exists at present."

The program underway at this time includes plans for economic and population base studies, mapping, the land use survey, thoroughfare, central area, community facilities, zoning administration, capital improvenents and programming report.

During the course of the next few months, Springer will meet with the Planning and Zoning Commissions to advise with in connection with the proposed grant.

"When completed," states Springer's report, "the proposed planning will assist in the orderly future development of this growing community. It will form the basis for guiding new development and eliminating existing blight and preventing conditions which could lead to blight."

Also present at the meeting last week was Mayor Paul Lindsey, Mayor pro-tem H. R. Fulton, Jr. and City Commissioner Tom Foster.

No AG Ruling Sought Say School Officials

Officials at West Texas State University said Monday they did not plan to ask for an opinion from the State Attorney General's office concerning newly-adopted campus security legislation.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, WTSU dean of student life, said an opinion was not necessary from the Attorney General as the campus security department policies here conformed with the legislation.

Dr. Carruth, Municipal Judge Burney Slack, Justice of the Peace W. A. (Bill) Wilson, Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen and acting City Manager Johnny Janak, met last week to discuss the new law. The legislation states that no university can levy a fine for traffic violations.

A difference arose, Dowlen said, because a portion of the bill states that all cases involving traffic violations and minor misdemeanors must be taken before a corporation or justice of the peace court.

"The University can levy punishments of various kinds," Dr. Carruth said. "Therefore, it is permissible to revoke parking permits which is what we do now." WTSU charges $1 to $5 for permit reinstatement and revokes the permit following the third citation given.

Dr. Carruth said Burnell Waldrop, attorney for the University to Texas and author of the legislation, specified that fees were permissible as punishment. UT, he said, follows such punishment procedures.

Non-student violators as well as students charged with felony offenses such as theft will be processed through either the JP or Corporation Court here.

"In connection with traffic and parking violations, only the officers authorized to enforce the provisions of this Act," the legislation states, "shall have the authority to issue and use traffic tickets and summons of the type now used by the Texas Highway Patrol. Nothing herein shall restrict the application and use of regular arrest warrants.

"The judge of a municipal court or any justice of the peace of any city or county where property under the control and jurisdiction of state institutions of higher education of this state is located is each hereby separately vested with all jurisdiction necessary to hear and determine criminal cases involving violations hereof where the punishment does not exceed a fine of $200.

In addition to eliminating fines by a university, the legislation also gives the security department officers jurisdiction over non-students on the campus proper, Dowlen said.

"The bill clearly puts everyone who is a non-student under the penal laws of Texas and gives the security department on the campus authority to enforce those laws," Dowlen declared.

The bill, Dowlen said, supposedly gives WTSU jurisdiction to handle non-student demonstrators and participants in riots or those involved in unruly conduct.

Last year the security department issued 14,156 citations on the campus, said Security Chief Bobby Hudson. About 5,000 were courtesy tickets given visitors.

Of the 9,000-plus citations for the nine-month period beginning Sept. 1, 1966 and ending the latter part of May, 1967, the university collected $11,056, according to WTSU Financial Vice Presidnet Virgil Henson.

With a security department budget of $50,600 for the coming year, WTSU will provide officers, clerical workers and parking area maintenance, Henson said.

The department, Henson added, is self-supporting and can use only that money provided in the budget.

HOMEMAKER OF THE WEEK Mrs. Sam Jolly and daughter, Pam, right, pause for a mid-morning break in their backyard patio. Mrs. Jolly shares favorite family recipes with our readers this week including Jolly Chili, Pumpkin Bread, Parsley Rice and Chestnut Stuffing for turkey.

COOK OF THE WEEK
Shares Family's Favorites

BY LORENA MILLER

Favorite family recipes for Jolly Chili, Pumpkin Bread, Parsley Rice, and Chestnut Stuffing are shared with our readers this week by Mrs. Sam Jolly of 2508 Eleventh Avenue.

Mrs. Jolly, the former Nola Margarett Blue, is a graduate of Hereford High School although she was raised in several towns of the Panhandle area. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue of Hereford and has a sister, Marcella Bradley, who lives in Hereford.

She holds the bachelor's degree in music and business from West Texas State University.

The Jollys were married July 8, 1942 in Fresno, California while he was serving with the Air Corps. He was a native of Amarillo, having graduated from Amarillo High School.

Jolly, who is sales agent for The Amarillo Globe-News in Canyon, has both the bachelors and masters degree in government and business from West Texas State University. His brother, Bill Jolly, lives in Grant, New Mexico.

During their early years of marriage, the Jollys lived from the east to the west coast while associated with the military. After service duty, the couple returned to Amarillo for about eight years before moving to Canyon in 1955.

They have a daughter, Pam, who will be an eighth grade student at Canyon Junior High School this fall. Pam is active in the Canyon Girl Scouts, plays the piano and was formerly in the CJHS band.

The Jolly's son, Mike, 15, will be a sophomore at Canyon High School this fall. He is also active in scouting and plays saxophone in the band.

The Jolly family built their own home, where they have lived for about six years. She said it took them "nine months to build the house along with the aid and supervision of a carpenter."

"We had only lived in the finished house about 90 days when we had a fire and had to remodel throughout," commented Mrs. Jolly.

The Jolly home is a compliment to "do-it-yourselfers" complete with a backyard which is landscaped with cement slabs, gravel, and a border of all types of flowers. Also located in the backyard is a moderate sized family garden, which is a pet hobby of Mr. Jolly, along with all types of sport activities. He is also a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Jolly says that the house and yard are full time hobbies for all members of the family including the pet cat, dog and parakeet.

The Jollys are members of the First Christian Church and she also is active in the University Study Club. Mrs. Jolly's working day includes serving as office assistant for her husband's business. She said that her husband supervises distribution boys and girls for the daily paper and he "helps the kids learn responsibility and how to be good young businessmen on their own".

Also interested in youth, Mrs. Jolly has served as a Girl Scout leader for about five years and is now working on the Cadet level as an adult supervisor.

Mrs. Jolly is a collector. She collects unusual rocks and driftwood to add to her outdoor garden. She also collects shells, poetry and many other items which catch her fancy. She says that music and sewing are also her favorite pasttimes when she has a few minutes to spare.

Library Board Holds Meeting

Mrs. T. B. McCarter reported on a recent annual meeting of the Friends of the Library in Amarillo at the regular monthly session for the Randall City-County Library Board last week.

Mrs. McCarter, chairman of the local library board, and Mrs. L. H. Brotherton were local representatives at the meeting which was attended by approximately 200.

Dr. Delman Winfrey, president of the Texas Association of Friends of the Library, reported in his main address that "in 1960 about 50 counties in Texas were without county library facilities and in 1966 the number of counties without libraries had dropped to 30."

A special report at the meeting was given by Gretchen Schenk, who reported on a two-week evaluation study of the Amarillo Public Library. Mrs. Schenk reproted on phases including the librarian and staff, finances, books and references available, and the building.

Mrs. McCarter was in charge of the local board meeting as reports were given on new libraries of the state, outstanding books and references which are current, and made plans for the end-of-season "reader's party" to be held Monday.

Acosta Returns From Camp McCoy

Staff Sergeant German H. Acosta of Canyon has returned from Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, after two weeks of training with the 12th Special Forces of Amarillo.

While at the Wisconsin camp, Acosta underwent field training during "Operation Big Dell 11", a continuation of last year's guerrila warfare and counter-insurgency training.

The companies separated into aggressor and guerrilla elements with some of the Berets acting as Special Forces Advisors. Teams of companies were brought into play during the exercise.

Each team consisted of a team leader, executive officer, operations sergeant, intelligence sergeant, two weapons experts, two demolition engineers, two communications specialists and two medics.

Prior to an operation, team members were placed in isolation where they were given last minute instructions on the operation plus pertinent information on the area terrain, living customs, types of edible food and location of friendly and enemy troops.

Men of the Special Forces must be capable of making parachute jumps, landing from boats, swift movement into a particular area unnoticed, and accomplishing individual missions.

During regular meetings throughout the year, Beret Reservists receive training in their respective military occupational specialties.

The Acostas live at 506 Third Avenue.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49-e, as follows:

"Section 49-e. The Parks and Wildlife Department, or its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which deals with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called "Texas Park Development Bonds," shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4½%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

"All moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law.

"Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park Sites and for developing said sites as State Parks.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law.

"The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

"From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After all bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys received from admission charges to State Parks shall be deposited to the State Parks Fund, or any successor fund which may be established by the Legislature as a depository for Park revenue earned by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon, the folowing words:

"FOR the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-e of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Park Development Fund to acquire lands for State Park sites and to develop State Parks."

"AGAINST the amendment to the Constitution of Texas adding a new section to be known as Section 49-e of Article III, authorizing the issuance and sale of Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000) in bonds by the State of Texas to create the Texas Park Development Fund to acquire lands for State Park sites and to develop State Parks."

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature.

"The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

"The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds may not exceed four and one-half per cent (4½%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same.

"In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, until the sale price therefor, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with other moneys attributable to such bonds; the interest and penalties received from the sale or resale of such lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, income, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces abovenamed and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the expenses of paying the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds.

"All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board (a 'series of bonds' being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds hereafter issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the retirement of any bonds hereafter issued and sold and to pay interest thereon, together with any expenses as provided herein, in accordance with the resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of such additional bonds, until there are sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds hereafter issued and sold, at which time all such moneys then remaining a part of said Veterans' Land Fund and thereafter becoming a part of said Fund shall be governed as elsewhere provided herein.

"This Amendment being intended only to establish a basic framework and not to be a comprehensive treatment of the Veterans' Land Program, there is hereby reposed in the Legislature full power to implement and effectuate the design and objects of this Amendment, including the power to delegate such duties, responsibilities, functions, and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it believes necessary.

"Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

"AGAINST the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

Buff Gridsters Hold Varied Summer Jobs

Do you need sporting goods? Want a wild stallion broken? Or do you want to have a bridge built?

Don't check the yellow pages, check with members of the West Texas State University football team.

College students do various things during the summer trying to pick up money for the coming school year. West Texas football players aren't any different. The Buff football players are employed from coast-to-coast. Many are working for various construction and freight moving firms and others work for their respective city parks and recreation departments. But there are several West Texas players who have found their summer employment rather interesting.

Jesse Powell, starting junior linebacker from Spur, has built up a reputation as a bronc-buster. Powell charges $50 to take the vinegar out of a wild horse. Jesse also helps his father with the work on their farm.

Junior flankerback Gary Clark is employed by the Armed Forces Radio and TV Service as a film processor in Los Angeles.

Bruce Wegman, junior offensive tackle is helping his father operate a delicatessan in Limekilm, Pennsylvania. Middle-linebacker Dick Kimbrough is working for his father building bridges near Redding, California.

Starting defensive guard Dave Whitmire is employed in one of the nation's hardship areas--Lake Tahoe. Dave's doing construction work. All-Texas tackle Jimmy Campbell from Odessa is doing construction work on the new West Texas State University Administration Building and building cabinets for people. Campbell's getting plenty of help from Canyon sophomore Gary McAtee, a promising defensive cornerback.

Fullback starter Albie (00) Owens is working at an Army Commissary in Carlisle, Pa.

Owens' running mate, Eugene (Mercury) Morris, is working for his father in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Defensive guard Louie (Mudcat) Spinks is enrolled in summer school. Louie also recently got married. Scheduled for August weddings are Defensive safety starter, Steve Haterius, who has been farming in Avoca, and starting offensive tackle Larry Brazon.

BURSITIS IS A PAINFUL AILMENT

In many cases bursitis is considered to be part of an arthritic tendency. A bursa is a little sac, often containing an oily like substance. It may be positioned under a muscle or a tendon and there it serves as a pully.

When a bursa becomes inflamed it may fill up with calcium, (sometimes called "lime") salts, which can be easily seen with X-rays. In the early stages it cannot be seen with an X-ray examination. Usually two out of three cases can be quickly cleared by a couple of treatments with rays. Sometimes injections are needed. Quick medical examination and treatment usually saves much pain.

PARKS AND WILDLIFE personnel Ben Bagwell, left, fishery aid, and Lloyd Winkley, assistant project leader, retrieve gill nets at Buffalo Lake Refuge. The recent survey indicates about 52 per cent of the fish at the lake are carp. Control methods are being studied.

Many Carp At Buffalo Lake

About 52 per cent of the fish population at Buffalo Lake Refuge is composed of carp, according to Jack Crabtree, fish biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Gill-net surveys taken recently at the lake indicate the carp population is increasing, despite a recent chemical "kill" that eliminated an estimated 250,000 of the rough fish.

An estimated 150,000 carp were also killed about the same time, Crabtree said, due to polluted waters at the lake.

Crabtree said various possibilities for controlling the carp next year were being considered, but no definite method had been approved.

He said the carp were controlled somewhat in the spring when chicken wire nets were used to trap the fish in the Tierra Blanca Creek where they spawn. While in the smaller area, they are then killed with chemicals.

Also sometimes used to control carp is placing game fish in the waters that will eat young carp and their eggs.

In the recent survey, many channel catfish, as well as one-quarter pound crappie were found. Also retrieved by the 10 nets strung at various points in the lake were a blue catfish and a white bass.

Crabtree said another survey would probably be taken in October.
